TARRED AND FEATHERED HIM

Mt. Vernon, Ohio, May 1.—Samuel Clark, 56, Jackson township farmer, was tarred and feathered yesterday morning and is in a serious condition. Turpentine applied to remove the coat of tar has made his flesh raw all over his body. Clark says he believes neighbors with whom he had trouble are responsible for the affair. He was called to the door of his home in his night clothes early in the morning, seized, rolled in tar and then feathers were applied. Clark said today he had received a letter warning him to leave the vicinity in ten days or he would be killed. "I am going to stay," Clark said today, "and I am going to fortify my house to withstand a siege if necessary."

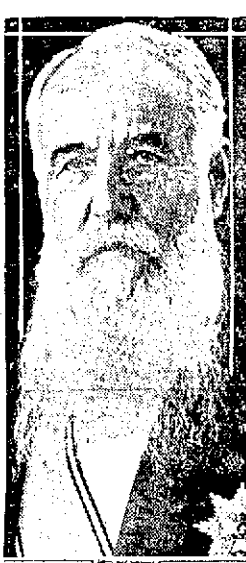

OBREGON'S DEMAND FOR RECALL OF U. S. TROOPS IS REJECTED

Washington, May 1.—After an exchange of messages between General Scott and the war department on his conference Saturday with General Obregon, Mexican minister of war, officials of the department said today the negotiations up to date had been "satisfactory." While General Obregon has urged that the American troops be withdrawn, President Wilson, they said, has no intention of granting the request and is hopeful that an agreement will be reached for co-operation between American and Mexican troops in the pursuit of Villa and other bandits. General Scott has been instructed to continue to press for such an agreement.

What Each Side Wants

The only terms suggested by General Obregon, Carranza's minister of war, while in conference with Generals Scott and Funston, representing the United States, Saturday at Juarez, are as follows: Immediate withdrawal of American forces. Use of railroads by Americans to facilitate removal of soldiers on Mexican soil. Assuming Francisco Villa is dead, General Obregon says his soldiers can handle the situation. American's substitution for these requests are as follows: Open and effective co-operation of the Carranza forces with the Americans. Extension of the American lines into Mexico at least as far south as Casas Grandes and probably farther. Delegation to the American military the duty of policing a "northern zone" consisting of the territory directly south of the international boundary. Policing of the remainder of the territory, a "southern zone" by Carranza forces. Co-operation in the handling of supplies for the American troops. Granting of the use of the Mexican railways to the expeditionary force.

REBEL HEADS SURRENDER; FOLLOWERS ARE JAILED

London, May 1.—Official announcement was made this afternoon that all the rebel leaders in Dublin had surrendered.

London, May 1.—Telegraphing from Dublin under date of Sunday the correspondent of the Evening News, says: "The last rebel stronghold to be taken was Jacob's Factory, which was surrounded at midday today. Cut off from the center of the city the beleaguered insurgents here had not heard of the capitulation of their chiefs. They kept up a desultory fusillade from the roofs and windows and finally had to be subdued by a battery of artillery."

London, May 1.—An official announcement issued last night concerning the situation in Ireland says: "Seven hundred and seven prisoners have been taken, including the Countess Markievicz. "An official list of casualties among the army given out today contains 27 names. Of this total five were killed, 21 wounded and one missing."

Dublin, Sunday evening, April 30 (via London, May 1)—Rebels of the rank and file followed the example of their leaders and confessed the cause of the Irish republic by laying down arms at the foot of Parnell monument in Sackville Street and surrendering to British troops. About 450 of them who had fought since Monday in this central area marched from their strongholds under the white flag and gave themselves up. Soon afterward a rebel lieutenant wearing a heather green uniform and carrying a white flag came in with a guard of ten men from the adjoining county of Meath to learn the truth about rumors of a general surrender. The party marched off to the castle and learned from J. H. Pearce, who was named provisional president of the Irish republic, that the movement had collapsed and was advised to resist no longer. The lieutenant and his escort then started out to parley with the rebels in the country districts in an effort to induce them to lay down their arms. James Connelly, one of the leaders of the uprising, is said by government officials to be a prisoner in the castle.

A correspondent of the Associated Press visited the entire area of disturbance today. The desolation and destruction showed how severe was the fighting while it lasted. An effort to describe the ruin center of the disturbance can give only a general idea of the havoc, which however, looks more extensive than it actually is, owing to the amount of debris. Passing down from headquarters near the entrance to Phoenix Park on North Circular road to the Four Courts district, one found that every window of the law courts had been shattered. The rebels had shelled from the building for a week. Valuable law books and valuable furniture were utilized to barricade windows. The rebels sniped without cessation day and night and were fired on in turn until they were compelled to evacuate the premises. Houses all around were pelted with bullet marks. Some of them were barricaded with thick wooden planks which were marked with bullet holes.

This morning the streets were full of curious persons who were glad to have the opportunity to be able to be about after long detention in their homes, during which they were deprived of food until the authorities made provision for them. The supplies thus brought in were ample.

Down Cork, Hill and King Edward streets strong guards are still in evidence and every passerby is challenged. The city hall had been occupied for several days by the rebels and even at this time snipers in houses in the vicinity were shooting at intervals.

As the correspondent approached the castle a party of more than 100 captured members of the Sinn Féin marched by under escort toward Richmond jail where more than 100 are now held. Many of the men were in green uniforms. One wore the uniform of the Irish volunteers and others were in civilian clothes. The soldiers escorting were men who had fought all through the uprising and were even more bitter against their rebellious fellow countrymen than the troops brought over from England. This feeling seems to be shared by most of the population of Dublin. Stephens Green, where the rebels entrenched themselves as

A glance at the published maps of Gen. Townshend's features sort of gives one a clue as to why he failed to score against the Turks. Speaking of some of the popular notions of the day—I guess it's a fact that if a thing is crazy enough, its bound to be taken seriously. Here's for tomorrow.

Writes About The Body Found At Garrison, Ky.

Coroner Dr. J. W. Diehler is in receipt of an inquiry from Mrs. Zella N. Robinson, of Middleport, O., regarding the body of the man found and buried at Garrison, Ky. a few days ago.

The writer says her husband, Charles H. Robinson, colored, was one of the towboat Sam Brown victims. He was 5 feet 11 inches tall, weighed between 220 and 230 pounds, wore blue shirt and overalls, work shoes sized 9 or 10, had good teeth, mole over the eye and also on the neck and had a white handle knife. The description tallies strongly with that of the man found at Garrison.

Coroner Daehler has written to the woman advising her to communicate with Squire Thomas Howard at Garrison for a detailed description of the man buried there.

THE TRUTH ABOUT RHEUMATISM

Doctors have more kinds of theories about Rheumatism and its causes than there are days in a month.

Some doctors make the claim that what you call Rheumatism is something entirely different; that it is a germ disease.

But you, who are bent and sore and stiff and doubled up with pain, and can't sleep or enjoy life—you know that Rheumatism is a very real thing to you.

You need, most of all, the treatment that has helped, and perhaps cured, more people of Rheumatism than any other—the one that goes to the seat of the trouble; that loosens up the stiff joints, eases the pain and eradicates the effects, poisonous matter which clogs up your whole system.

This treatment is Dubl-R—remember the name—the double Rheumatism medicine that is recommended and sold at Fisher & Strelch Pharmacy and nowhere else in Portsmouth.

THEATRICAL

Sun Theatre

The seventh week of the stock run at the Sun will open tonight with a production of "Madam X, or The Woman of Mystery." This play has been featured strongly as being one of unusual merit. This will be the first time the play has been seen here at popular prices and therefore a large attendance is looked for during the three days it will run at the Sun. A complete new scenic production has been built and painted for the play, and a two dollar production has been promised. The prices will remain the same however. This clever company has been giving the people of Portsmouth their money's worth of good plays for six weeks now and the attendance had grown larger each week. It is a pleasure to be able to say that we have at last a stock company in our midst that does exactly what it advertises and always gives good performances of good plays. The Palace Players are making more friends every week and their success is merited. If you want to see a first class dramatic performance well played, and thoroughly produced, see "Madam X, or The Woman of Mystery." After the play tonight the weekly barker shop will be held and large quantities of first class pastries will be given to the audience.

WHAT CAUSES COLDS?

This question is asked every day. A cold is really a fever, not always caused by the weather but often due to disordered blood or lack of important food-elements. In changing seasons food-elements are essential because they distribute heat by enriching the blood and so render the system better able to withstand the varying elements. This is the important reason why Scott's Emulsion should always be taken for colds, and it does more—builds strength to prevent sickness. Scott's Emulsion contains Nature's rare strength-building fats, so skillfully blended that the blood profits from every drop. It is free from harmful drugs or alcohol. Sold at drug stores—always get the genuine.

Mae Murray and Wallace Reid in "To Have and To Hold" At Lyric Tomorrow.

Mae Murray, the beautiful Lasky star, will make her photo-dramatic debut in the pictorialized version of Mary Johnson's famous novel, "To Have and to Hold," the thrilling romance of the early Colonial days in Virginia, at the Lyric tomorrow, supported by Wallace Reid and an all-star cast. It is a Paramount picture.

Mae Murray is an artist of unusual talent, beauty and personality. Prior to her engagement for a number of years in the Lasky company, Miss Murray's time was devoted to the speaking stage. She finally continge upon her arrival in the Colonies brings about a series of exciting adventures, most naturally be seen to be enjoyed.

A Bit of Translation.

The difficulty of avoiding bad humor when one is translating from English into such a language as that of the Miami Indians of Nova Scotia must be very great, says a writer in the London News. We hear from the Miami society of a curious case. In the first edition of St. Matthew in Miami the translator found when he came to revise it that in chapter xiv, v. instead of "Nation shall rise against nation" he had written, "A pair of snow shoes shall rise up against a pair of snow shoes." And yet there was only one single letter misprinted—concocting kumkistik in nation having been displaced by snowshoeskumkistik in snowshoes.

Baptist Institute Proves Of Profit To All Who Attend

One of the best gatherings of Baptists in this city was held Sunday afternoon, when the Baptist Institute of Sunday School and Young People's Workers opened at the First Baptist church. Rev. T. F. Chambers, secretary of the Ohio Baptist convention; Rev. C. E. Stanton, joint secretary of Home and Foreign Missions for Ohio; W. A. Holmes, director of Sunday School and Young People's Work for Ohio; and Miss Zoe E. Barnhouse, specialist in elementary Sunday school and young people's work, all well known State Baptist workers are the parties in charge of the institute meetings.

The first session was held at 2:30 Sunday afternoon, with J. J. Van Gorder in charge of the devotional services. Group conferences and reports were next on the program.

All Baptist churches in the city and New Boston were represented by their pastors, and a number of members from the official boards. It was the largest gathering of Baptist pastors and officials in this city for a long time. The conference of "Church Officers and Pastors" and "Men and Kingdom" was combined, Rev. Chambers and Rev. Stanton being the speakers and leaders.

"Women and the Kingdom" was the subject discussed by W. A. Holmes at the conference of the women present. At the conference of "Intermediates and Juniors," Miss Zoe E. Barnhouse delivered a very helpful talk.

After the conferences a meeting of all was held in the church auditorium, where W. A. Holmes delivered a splendid talk on "The Standard Bible School." The address was intensely interesting, practical and helpful.

Sunday evening the state workers filled the different Baptist pulpits in the city and New Boston, no special session of the institute being held. Rev. T. F. Chambers was the pastor who filled the place of Rev. D. F. Cuddill at the First Baptist church. The church was crowded, Rev. Chambers giving a special sermon, a missionary discourse that proved very interesting to everyone present.

The second session of the institute opened at 9:30 Monday morning. The members of the Ministerial Association had been invited to attend this session, and they were there in goodly numbers. Rev. W. M. Hart, pastor of Kendall Avenue Baptist church, had charge of the devotional part of the program, and presided over the entire session.

Rev. C. E. Stanton was the first speaker of the day, his subject being "Missions in the Sunday School." In his talk Rev. Stanton brought out two main points, the "missionary five minutes" and "plans for missionary giving." The "missionary five minutes" is the giving of five minutes of every Sunday school hour to a missionary thought or short program.

The principal address of the morning was delivered by Miss Barnhouse. Although tired from her work of the day before, Miss Barnhouse dealt with her subject, "The Growing Child," in a very masterful manner. She carefully took up the study of child advancement, and clearly illustrated the life of the child from infancy to the adult age. Miss Barnhouse revealed her knowledge of the growing child by laying before the large number present things that go to make up the child's life.

The remainder of the morning was given over to an open forum at which many of the points brought out in the talks of the morning were discussed.

The institute will come to a close tonight with a special meeting being held for young people. "The Young Peoples' Societies of the city and New Boston churches are expected to attend in a body, special seats being reserved for each society. "The Baptist Young People's Society at Work" is the topic to be discussed by Miss Barnhouse. Rev. T. F. Chambers will deliver a talk on "A Church's Good Name."

Bored For His Title.

There is a popular belief that titles often fall to the unfortunate. It was an old colonial office official who, when asked why a certain individual had received a K. C. M. G., pointed to a hole in the carpet in front of his desk. "Do you see that?" said he. "X. wrote that hole when representing to me his claims to be knighted. Matters eventually reached such a pitch that we saw that we must either give him the title or buy a new carpet. So we gave him the K. C. M. G."—London Chronicle.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, May 1.—Ignoring various discouraging conditions, especially the labor situation today's market registered numerous material gains, with marines in the lead.

Labor trouble probably contributed to the irregular trend of prices on the resumption of trading today, although gains far exceeded declines, both as to number and extent. Mercantile Marines were again the central features, the preferred and common soon rising to new records at 93 1/2 and 26 1/2 respectively. United States Steel, some of the prominent specialties and such rails as Reading and Erie were higher by fractions of a point. Baldwin Locomotive was the only heavy feature yielding a point with minor recession in Mexican Petroleum, American Smelting and a few less conspicuous stocks.

Baldwin made up its loss, likewise Mexicans, but the movement in other quarters of the list became more confusing. Distillers' securities losing almost three points with heaviness in Industrial Alcohol. Demand for Marines abated perceptibly and, though subject to continued profit taking, those issues yielded but little. Trading quickened later, the entire list responding to an inquiry for distinctive war shares, chiefly Crucible, Studebaker and other industrials of the same class with gains of 1 to 3 points. Rails were only moderately active but higher. Bonds were steady.

A few high priced specialties rose substantially in the final hour and rails also hardened. The closing was strong.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Chicago, May 1.—Wheat ran up rapidly in value today, influenced chiefly by wet weather northwest making certain a further decrease in the extent of spring crop seeding.

Opening quotations which were 1 1/2 off to 2 1/2 up with May at $1.14 1/2 to $1.16 1/2, and July at $1.13 1/2 to $1.17 were followed by a range that averaged only a little under the initial top level.

Process closed firm 15 1/2 to 17 1/2 net higher with May at $1.16 1/2 and July at $1.17 1/2. Corn hardened with wheat. On the bulge, however, there was considerable speculative buying. After opening 1/4 to 1/2 higher the market scored some additional gain.

The close though, was easy at the same as Saturday's finish to 1/2 higher.

Oats shared in the firmness of other cereals.

The bulk of business continued to be the exchange of May and July options.

Lower prices on hogs weakened provisions. The only exception was May lard, which showed a tightening up.

Afterward the market developed strength all around. Deliveries on May contracts were light, and this fact coupled with peace talk prompted an active general demand.

"Let me show you 'Love Letters of Wise Men,'" said the clerk in the book emporium.

"Are they signed?" asked the cautious bookworm.

"Yes, indeed; every one of them."

Sunday Great Day At Holy Redeemer

Sunday was a great day for the members of Holy Redeemer church. The sanctuary and altars were beautifully decorated with palms, lilies and many lighted tapers. The tabernacle of the main altar was adorned with three illuminated crosses. At 7:30 services the choir rendered in a soul stirring manner the Easter program. It was at this mass the class of twenty-one little boys and girls made their First Holy Communion. The church was crowded with devout worshippers all anxious to witness First Communion services. The spectacle of the little ones approaching Holy Communion for the first time never fails to awaken in the souls of young and old the holiest emotions of religion. The First Communicants, two by two, approached the altar and received from the hands of the officiating priest, "the body and blood of the Lord." During this ceremony the hearts of the parents as well as many others were so moved that many eyes were moistened by tears. The school children, two hundred in number, received Holy Communion in order to solemnize the happy occasion as much as possible.

The pastor, in fervent words, spoke in part as follows:

"Parents of these little ones so precious to the Heart of Christ never forget the wonderful compassion of Christ for little children. The Savior was not satisfied with taking the little ones of His flock into His sacred arms, caressing, kissing and blessing them; but He wanted to go to the full extent of Divine Love by giving them His own body and blood in the Sacrament of His love."

For He said, "He that eateth my flesh and drinketh my blood, abideth in me and I in him." What a glorious gift! Not even the angels were so highly favored by the Savior. This is the greatest blessing God can confer upon sinful mortals of this life. Union with Christ in the bond of Charity in a most intimate and marvelous manner is the invention of Divine Love. The Savior who knows the weakness of human nature, wills to be more by deed than by word, a real Savior to the souls of little children. He gives Himself body and blood in the Sacrament of love as the sovereign remedy by which to enlighten, strengthen and vitalize the the church. Having reached the church the program of the evening proceeded. In the presence of the largest audience ever gathered within the sacred walls of the fine church the services took place. From beginning of the ceremony the vast audience was spellbound by everything seen and heard. It was remarked by many non-Catholics, "I never saw anything so beautiful." During twenty-seven years Holy Redeemer church to which belongs the credit of holding May crowning in this city, has never failed to hold annually these services in honor of the Virgin Mother of Christ. This year the services could not have been finer and more successful.

The children showed an efficiency in drill, singing and reading of appropriate addresses seldom surpassed. The climax of the ceremony was in the hands of a graceful little angel, Margaret, the promising daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Russell. The sweet child had the high honor of placing the floral crown upon the head of the Virgin statue. No sooner was the crown placed than another brilliant crowning light burst forth, which is typical of Mary's crowning in heaven by the angels and saints. Every heart in the vast audience impelled by joy and praise, no doubt, would have burst forth into one grand salvo of applause had it not been for the reverence of the place which restrained them. After the ceremony the pastor stepped to the chancel and substantially remarked: "This beautiful scene together with all that has been seen and heard is a most eloquent sermon itself which no doubt found responsive to the music of all beautiful church chimes which played during the procession to Catholic."

PANTALINETTES WORN UNDER DANCE FROCKS

Pantalinettes of white satin trimmed with shadow lace are particularly adapted to wear under dance frocks or daily negligees. The bodice and the bloomers are gathered on elastic bands which insure a perfect fit. The shadow lace is of fine material and has a most pleasing effect on the white satin.

C. & O. "Solid Trains" To New York Coming

Huntington, W. Va., May 1.—That beginning May 28, the date set for adding two new trains to the Chesapeake & Ohio schedule through Huntington, will witness the return of solid trains between Cincinnati and New York is the opinion of railroad officials.

As it is now, No. 2 is the only solid eastward train to New York, it being necessary on No. 4 to change cars at Washington.

It is expected, however, when trains No. 1 and No. 6 are restored to the schedule that trains No. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 will be solid trains requiring no change of cars. The establishment of such a system, it is said, would greatly improve the Chesapeake and Ohio service.

COUNTY NEWS

Friday, April 21, was a day long to be remembered by the pupils and patrons of the Oak Grove school in Madison township. By 9:30 a. m. the patrons began to arrive with well-filled baskets and by 12 o'clock a large crowd had arrived. They were called to order by the teacher, E. E. Shoemaker who conducted three spelling contests—one for the fourth and fifth grades, one for the sixth and seventh grades and one for all above the seventh grade. They then adjourned for dinner and soon the ladies had two large tables spread with a dinner that those who partook of shall not soon forget. Indeed, it would take more than the pen of an Irving to do it justice.

After dinner they again assembled in the school room and all joined in singing "America" after which Rev. Bostick offered prayer. The Oak Grove choir then sang a song which they had composed entitled "The Little White School on the Hill." It was sung to the air of "Church in the Wildwood."

A short program, consisting of recitations, dialogues and songs, was rendered, after which Mr. Josiah Warren, judge of the spelling contests reported the following winners:

Class A—Miss Ione Dever; class B, Miss Ethel Shoemaker; class C, Lowell Dever. Miss Dever made the highest average.

Contests in adding and multiplying were conducted and Homer Dever has the winner in each. Everett Wilson was the winner of the general information contest.

At three o'clock they adjourned to a field nearby where the following athletic contests were conducted:

Foot Races—Class A—Alva McDaniel, Rowena Dever and Raymond Shoemaker. Winner, Alva McDaniel.

Class B—Lowell Dever, Carl Erwin, and Alfonso Dever. Winner—Lowell Dever.

Class C—Xavier Debo, Homer Dever, Clarence McDaniel, Walter Dever and James McDaniel. Winner—Xavier Debo.

Class D—Rev. Floyd Postick and John Fulton, with the former winner.

Class E—Bertha Fulton, Tena Dever, Aileen White, Ione Dever, Mrs. Blaine Dever and Ethel Shoemaker. Winner—Aileen White.

Potato Races—Class A—Homer Dever, Clarence McDaniel, Dallas Rambo, Albert Smith, Walter Dever, Xavier Debo and James McDaniel. Winner James McDaniel.

Class B—Aileen White, Ione Dever, Mrs. Blaine Dever, Ethel Shoemaker, Bertha Fulton and Tena Dever. Winner—Aileen White.

Jumping Contests—Class A—Xavier Debo, Homer Dever, James McDaniel and Everett Wilson.

Class B—Xavier Debo, Homer Dever, James McDaniel, Albert Smith and Everett Wilson.

Class C—Xavier Debo, Rev. Floyd Postick, Homer Dever, Albert Smith, James McDaniel, Walter Dever and Everett Wilson. Xavier Debo won in all three classes.

Stone Throwing Contest—Class A—Mrs. Clara Dever, Mrs. Wm. McDaniel, Mrs. Blaine Dever, Mrs. Aaron McDaniel, Mrs. A. H. Woten, Mrs. John Fulton, Jennie Fulton, Ione Dever, Bertha Flack, Ethel Shoemaker, Tena Dever, Bertha Fulton and Aileen White. Winner—Mrs. Aaron McDaniel.

Class B—Everett Wilson, Xavier Debo, James McDaniel, Homer Dever, Walter Dever, and Dallas Rambo. Winner—Everett Wilson.

A blue ribbon on which were printed the name of the contest, date and other appropriate words, was awarded to each winner. Additional prizes were given for most of the contests.

Lowell Dever was awarded first prize for the best box and arrow, and for the best bird house. Miss Tena Dever received a prize for the best exhibit of flowers.

A five o'clock they again assembled at the school house, where the prizes were awarded to the various winners. They then went to their several homes, to again gather at the school house

BRUSH TEETH CORRECTLY

The right way to brush the teeth is to hold the bristles upright, in this way the crevices, as well as the surfaces are thoroughly cleaned, avoiding a few drops of biclorite in glass of water are used.

Particles of food which invite germs and microbes get into the tiny crevices. Biclorite reaches every crevice, kills the germs and makes the mouth and breath sweet and clean.

You surely must use biclorite and avoid decay of teeth. Rinse and gargle with this very satisfying and effective mouth wash and you will escape throat troubles and other germ diseases. Dentists are urging the use of biclorite because it is such a pure, safe and remarkably effective antiseptic. It cools and soothes, cleanses and heals and is very economical. Biclorite can be obtained from any druggist. General Laboratories, Madison, Wis.

At the close of the evening program the school presented to their teacher, E. E. Shoemaker, a beautiful gold tie pin, as a reminder of their appreciation for his service during the past three years. Rev. Floyd Bostick made the presentation speech.

At 9:30 p. m. all left for their homes, feeling that they had spent an enjoyable day, a day that will ever remain visible on memory's wall.

Each one was presented with a white ribbon, bearing the words: "Welcome to Oak Grove's Last Day, April 21, 1916."

MANLY CHURCH NOTES

Dr. W. E. Fitch, pastor of Central Methodist church of Columbus, filled the pulpit at Manly church Sunday morning. He was here as a representative of the Anti-Saloon League. Using as a text Romans 12:21, "Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good," he gave his views on overcoming the liquor evil. He then presented the plans and needs of the League for the campaign this year and asked for pledges for its support. Dr. Fitch is an interesting and forceful speaker and his sermon was enjoyed by all.

The evening sermon by Rev. Gilliland was the last of the series on the Christian Life, its subject being "The Christian Life, Its Completion and Its Rewards." The text was Romans 8:32, "He that spared not His own Son, but delivered Him up for us all, how shall he not with Him also freely give us all things?"

"There is no limit to what God will do for the Christian. We get our rewards now; we don't have to wait until we get to heaven. We have direct communication with God. Through Christ we can have true nobility of character. We can influence others for good. But these rewards are attained only through a complete surrender to God, only by constant consecration. We reach our fullest development only through Christ."

"The Christian Life will never be completed; it opens up all eternity for us to grow and to be like Him."

Beginning next Sunday evening and running through the month of May, Rev. Gilliland will preach a series of sermons on "Wasted Lives." The subject of the first will be "Lives Wasted Through Evil Tendencies, or Sinful Lives."

Have You A Want?—Fill It With A Times Want Ad

Tender Teeth—the first sign of Pyorrhea

When you brush your teeth, does it feel as though you were brushing against the quill? Do the gums sometimes bleed? This is because pyorrhea has caused the gums to pull away from your teeth, leaving the unenamelled surfaces unprotected.

Your dentist will tell you, if you ask him, that you have gum recession; and that gum recession is caused by pyorrhea.

Unchecked, pyorrhea will warp and shrink and deform the gums. It will break down the bony structure into which the teeth are set—and you will eventually lose them. To save your teeth you will have to begin to fight this dread disease at once.

A specific for pyorrhea has been discovered recently by dental science, and is now offered for daily treatment in Senecio Tooth Paste. Senecio combats the germ of the disease. Its regular use insures your teeth against the attack or further progress of pyorrhea.

But Senecio does more. It cleanses the teeth delightfully. It gives them a whiteness distinctive of Senecio alone. Its flavor is entirely pleasing, and it leaves in the mouth a wonderful sense of coolness and wholesome freshness.

Start the Senecio treatment before pyorrhea grips you for good. Details in folder with every tube. A two-ounce tube for 25c is sufficient for 6 weeks' daily treatment. Get Senecio of your druggist today, or send 4c in stamps or coin for sample tube and folder. Address The Senecio Remedy Company 593 Union Central Building, Cincinnati, Ohio.

WANT WEST SIDE ROADS RAISED

DELEGATION APPEARS BEFORE OFFICIALS OF THE COUNTY: OUTLOOK GOOD

At the regular meeting of the county commissioners Monday at the court house, delegations from the Board of Trade and Business Men's Association and West Side appeared and recommended that all roads on the West Side be raised to an elevation of 55 ft. The commissioners said they would take the proposition under advisement and have already ordered the county engineer to prepare a tentative plan to elevate the Y-road. The trustees of the Scioto County Children's Home also attended asking that funds be appropriated from some source with which to operate the home.

Headed by the Good Roads committee which is composed of John C. Bauer, Mark W. Selby and Valles Harold and W. B. Anderson and Alan N. Jordan and a delegation of farmers from the West Side recommendations were presented to the commissioners asking that measures be taken to raise the Y-road from a forty-five foot elevation to fifty-five feet. Alan N. Jordan offered to furnish the commissioners with crushed rock, gravel and dirt to make the necessary fill gratis.

Besides recommending that the Y-road be raised above normal flood stage, the delegations suggested that all of the West Side roads both in the Scioto and Ohio valleys be raised to an elevation of 55 feet. The commissioners stated that at present they were without funds but would endeavor to devise a method to make the proposed improvements.

To the statement made by Alan N. Jordan, that the present Y-road was 18 inches below the specified elevation of 45 feet in several places, President Thomas Watkins says that an even grade is held from one end of the road to the other. Engineer John Harper said that he had run levels across the road and had found the elevations to be correct in all sections.

The county engineer will prepare a set of preliminary plans and specifications for raising the Y-road and submit the same to the Commissioners.

George D. Selby, John Peebles and Frank B. Kelso, trustees of the Scioto County Children's Home came before the board Monday and asked that an appropriation sufficient to pay the running expenses of the institution be granted them. Prosecuting Attorney Jos. T. Micklethwait held that the commissioners were not in a position to raise any money in a legal manner until the report of the examiners which was submitted to the attorney general two weeks ago was returned.

Mr. Selby, president of the board of trustees, declared that something would have to be done for the vouchers which they had been issuing were not honored by the county auditor and the Home was filled with children to be cared for.

Believing that the demands of the trustees would constitute an emergency act, although illegal, Prosecuting Attorney Micklethwait recommended that the commissioners borrow money to pay the running expenses of the home until the attorney general's report was received.

He was only in Peebles three weeks. Mr. Taylor returned to Portsmouth Sunday and will be at the meeting of the Owls tonight.

Anti-Saloon League Outlines Its Plans, May Have Beal Election

Supt. J. A. White outlined the program of the Ohio Anti-Saloon league in Ohio for 1916 at meetings in Portsmouth Sunday.

At Bigelow in the morning and Fourth Street M. E. in the evening Mr. White delivered very forceful addresses explaining the program of the league.

Law enforcement, newspaper publicity, W. P. P. A. organization and state polling are the cardinal points in the plans now in operation over the state.

In addition to these, scientific temperance institutes are being held especially in cities contemplating Beal law elections. Williams recently voted dry largely aided by this means, said the speaker. An institute is now being conducted in East Liverpool where a Beal law election is to be held in the near future.

Mr. White met with the county dry committee at 2:00 to discuss the advisability of a Beal law election in Portsmouth and New Boston. "This question is getting of more and more interest to local dry forces," it was stated after the meeting, and it was said "developments are expected in the near future."

STRIKE CRIPPLES

Company in Pittsburgh and vicinity and the Washington and Charleston Interurban lines, as well as on the Dearer Valley and Washington local lines.

President J. D. Callery announced that no attempt to operate the cars would be made today.

The strike order was issued by T. K. Ward, president of District 55, Street Car Men's Union, promptly at midnight, and shortly after negotiations between the employees and officials had been broken off.

No disorder marked the start of the strike, and within two hours after the order had been issued, traction service had been stopped. In order to be ready, should the officials of the company desire to resume negotiations, members of the union wage scale committee remained at the labor temple throughout the night.

Mayor Joseph G. Armstrong attempted to prevent the final break, but was unsuccessful. He conferred with representatives of both sides in an effort to induce them to submit to a new proposition, but both remained firm. The strike affects 3,200 conductors and motormen and about 800 other employees of the company.

The men first demanded 30, 35 and 38 cents an hour, the first, second and third years service, but later yielded to 50, 53 and 56 cents. The company refused to pay more than 32 cents as a maximum wage.

The strikers early today stationed pickets at the various car barns and also at the city limits to prevent the Butler short line and the Butler Harmony and New Castle Interurban cars from entering the city.

Vice-President J. J. Thorpe, of the union, this morning issued an order instructing strikers to keep away from saloons. He said he anticipated no trouble.

WALKED OUT

East Liverpool, O., May 1.—One hundred carpenters walked out here today when their demands for an increase from $4 to $4.50 for an eight hour day were refused.

MACHINISTS STRIKE

Youngstown, O., May 1.—All machinists in contract shops in this city, numbering 2,000, went on strike today when refused demands for an eight hour day, fifty cents an hour wages, and closed shop. In addition to the walkout today, the plant of the Republic Rubber Company, which locked out 1,250 employees last week, remains closed.

CARPENTERS ON STRIKE

Akron, O., May 1.—Several hundred carpenters were on strike here today, following a vote to walk out, taken yesterday. Of the nine hundred carpenters in the city, union leaders claim 600 had quit today. The strikers ask an eight hour day, instead of the former nine hour work period, and an increase in pay from 45 to 55 cents an hour.

Efforts were made today to end the strike of machinists at the Whitman and Barnes Mfg. Co., where five hundred employees are idle. The machinists ask shorter hours and higher pay.

BIG LABOR PARADE

IN NEW YORK CITY
New York, May 1.—Owing to the unusual ferment in labor circles union leaders predict that the May day parade here this afternoon will be one of the most notable labor demonstrations New York has ever seen.

Estimates of the number of men and women in line ran as high as 100,000. After the parade there will be a great mass meeting in Union Square and smaller meetings in 30 halls throughout the city. The nucleus of the parade will be the garment workers, 60,000 of whom have been locked out in a contest with the manufacturers over the closed shop question.

To prevent disturbances unusual precautions have been taken by the city authorities. A large number of policemen will be stationed in Union Square when the parade disperses and the mass meeting is addressed by orators and labor leaders.

2,000 NOT AT WORK

Cincinnati, O., May 1.—Complete reports from 75 machine shops in Cincinnati and vicinity from manufacturers of machinery and machine tools, showed that 7,960 machinists had reported for work in these shops. There were 1,252 machinists absent. The manufacturers said that ordinarily a number of employees failed to report on Monday, therefore they do not believe all of the 1,252 men absent represent that number of strikers.

R. L. Corley, organizer of the Machinists' Union, at noon today declared that his reports showed about 2,000 machinists are on strike.

Fifty shops had not been heard from at union headquarters, he said. There is about 11,000 machinists and machine operators in Cincinnati and the district. Nicholas Klein, attorney for a number of labor unions, also has made a study of the labor situation, and estimates the number of men not reporting for work at 2,000.

DUBLIN REVOLT

some of the poor began rioting. This was stopped at two o'clock when the troops cleared the streets again and arrested every one who did not move promptly. In the debris was found a printed proclamation issued in the name of the provisional republic government, the gist of which follows:

"The provisional government to the citizens of Dublin:

"The provisional government of the Irish republic salutes the citizens of Dublin on the momentous occasion of the proclamation of a sovereign independent Irish state, now in course of being established by Irishmen in arms. Republican forces now hold the lines taken up at 12 noon Easter Monday and nowhere, despite the fierce and almost continuous attacks of British troops, have the lines been broken through."

Warren—William Carnsey was struck and seriously injured today by an interurban car. His son was killed the same way two weeks ago.

LABOR NEEDED IN OHIO

Columbus, May 1.—Demand for skilled and unskilled labor in Ohio is greater this May 1, than ever before in the history of the state, according to a statement issued today by F. C. Croxton, state industrial commissioner. Mr. Croxton asserted that the demand for labor is not sectional, but applies to every county and city in the state.

INDIAN DAY MAY 13

Columbus, O., May 1.—The people of Ohio are asked to observe American Indian day, which comes on May 13, in a letter received today by Governor Willis from Red Fox James, of New York City, who belongs to the Black Feet tribe of Indians of Montana. Twenty-four governors have endorsed the idea of having a day set aside in honor of the American Indian.

Teddy Led Ford In Ohio While Bryan Got 87 Votes

Columbus, O., May 1.—Returns received at the secretary of state's office today from 81 counties, show that Roosevelt led Ford by less than 100 votes in the presidential preference primary in those counties. Roosevelt polled 1,618 votes, all cast by Republicans, while Ford received 1,532 votes from Republicans and 1,072 from Democrats. Bryan seems to have been a negligible quantity in the primary, having received 87 votes. In the Republican primary Burton received 83,021 and William Grant Webster, of Chicago, his opponent, 8746. In the Democratic primary, President Wilson received 64,706 votes. Hughes received 374 Republican votes.

Move On Foot To Speed Up Program In Congress For July Adjournment

Washington, May 1.—Because of the absence of several senators Majority Leader Kern was unable to muster a quorum of the senate to meet today for steering committee today for framing a "clean up" legislative program and the meeting will be held tomorrow.

Washington, D. C., May 1.—Another move to "speed up" the legislative program in congress, in order that adjournment may be had as soon as possible, was started today by Democratic leaders of both houses. The aim is to get the more important features of the pending slate enacted into law before the national political conventions and in this the minority in congress is expected to co-operate.

The calling up of the Philippine independence bill under a special rule, providing for its disposition in one day, marked the beginning of the "clean up" campaign in the house. With this bill disposed of, it is planned to hurry up action on other measures, including the Porto Rican and Columbian independence, rural credits, naval and revenue bills.

Democratic leaders on both sides of the capital are hopeful of adjournment sometime in July, unless present calculations are upset.

Love For an Hour.

What is it that makes people so much better company at a masquerade than under any other circumstance?

In the circle of the black mask and the domino we have no name, no past, no future, no self to live up to or down to, and the mask that is uppermost need never impose itself upon a later mood.

We can be spontaneous and genuine. No wonder we are good company!

For on the whole our spontaneous impulses are kindly and gay.

We are almost ready to love our fellow men for an hour if we are not thereby committing ourselves to loving them for a lifetime. —Pittsburgh Press.

He left home as usual early Sunday morning. He called up his home at 7:30 o'clock telling his wife that there was no trouble with any of the lines and he would be back in a few minutes. MISS HANKO WILL HELP YOU TO BE GOOD HOUSEHOLD MANAGER

The lecture and cookery course which is to be given free to Portsmouth housewives next week under the auspices of the Times, includes many phases of household management. Miss Hanko, who will have charge of this Better Foods Better Homes School, will in her talks and cookery demonstrations, suggest many methods which housewives can put into immediate operation in their own home kitchens. The good women of this city are sure to like Miss Hanko, and to approve of her Domestic Science teaching. She is a graduate of Pratt Institute and is also an experienced housekeeper. Women in many cities throughout the east have attended Miss Hanko's lectures and cookery lessons and all fully approve of her housekeeping and cookery ideas. It is not her aim to go about the country offering a lot of beautiful untried theories which are of no actual value to women in the home. Instead, she proposes to make her course practical and suggests methods that have been put to the test and found workable and valuable. She encourages women to take a deeper interest in good foods for their families and suggests many ideas in regard to economical buying. In fact she takes hold of the subject of housekeeping and cooking as if it were one decidedly worth while and no woman can listen to Miss Hanko's lectures on this subject for an entire week without coming around to her way of thinking and feel that housekeeping is a big job into which a woman can very well afford to put a great deal of intelligent thought out of which they should get much satisfaction and enjoyment. Miss Hanko's lectures and cookery lessons in Kendall Hall next week are offered free by the Times, and every woman in the city is invited to attend.

Drive Catarrh Away By Purifying Your Blood

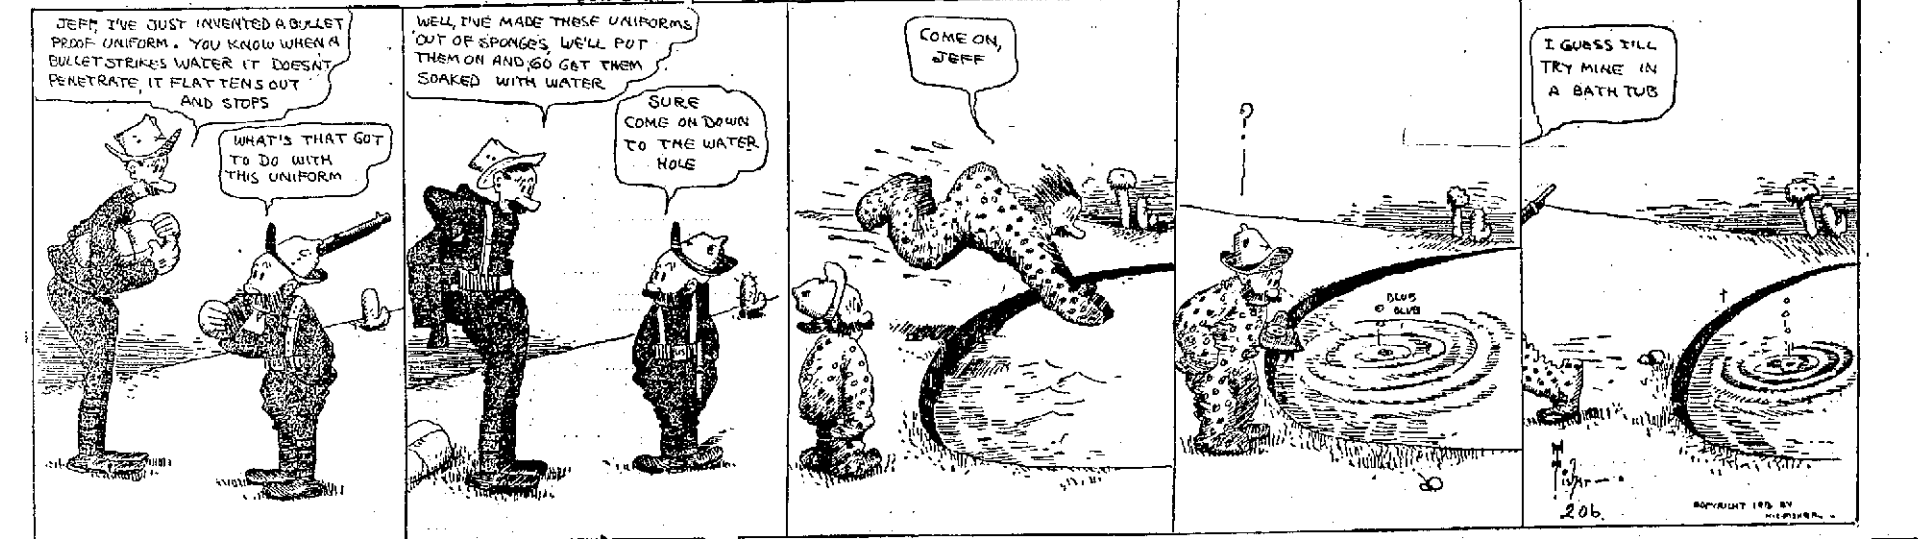

During winter, nature changes the blood of man and we, because of our habits, unconsciously do those things which are against nature. Then far down amid the vital organs, creep weaknesses, that our blood is not vigorous enough to fight off. Here is where Catarrh enters and quickly makes a conquest. We feel the effects of a cold in nose or throat and sometimes in lungs and stomach. The most common symptoms of the presence of Catarrh is an inflamed and tender condition of the breathing passages and the blocking of throat and nostrils with mucus. It is a frequent mistake to treat this symptom and neglect the actual disease. If the blood was pure and vigorous Catarrh would not get a foothold. But having gotten a foothold in our system, the only possible way to cure the disease is to remove the impurities from the blood and at the same time tone up the blood so it will become vigorous and healthy again. The use of washes, sprays, salves, have only a temporary local effect; they do not reach the disease. S. S. S. has proved for half a century to be the most powerful antidote to poison in the blood. Its action is to strengthen the blood corpuscles so they fight off disease. If you suffer from Catarrh in any of its forms, don't be misled into treating the symptoms, but take S. S. S. and remove the cause. Any druggist can supply you. Get the genuine Write for Medical Department, Room 21, for advice. Swift Specific Company, Atlanta, Ga.

Million Members In Five Years Is Plan Outlined By Baptists

The two day's Mid-Year Institute of the Portsmouth Baptist Association held in the Sciotoville Baptist church came to a close with an interesting session Saturday afternoon, the Institute being one of the most successful held by the Portsmouth Association.

Saturday afternoon's program opened with Rev. Green Willis of the Powellville Baptist church in charge of the devotional service. Rev. C. E. Stanton who followed, gave the principal talk of the session, his subject being "The Five Year Program." He outlined the work that the Baptist have planned for the coming five years. Part of the plan is to have a million members join Baptist churches in five years; also to raise $5000 each year for five years for foreign mission work. Rev. Stanton's talk proved very entertaining and instructive. Miss Zoe E. Barnhouse was the second speaker of the afternoon. Her subject was "Lessons and Methods in the Efficiency Department."

"NIPS" WIN BY A NOSE

Sunday was "Nip" day at Trinity Sunday School, the "Nips" having won over the "Tucks" by the small majority of 15 out of a total attendance of 1265. This evens up the score since the "Tucks" won on Easter Sunday. When Captain Bennett, right aide of General Chas. "Nip" Bridwell, climbed into the balcony and tore down the colors of the "Tucks" and instead hung his own victorious banner, there were cheers mingled with groans and groans from the losers. With the score a tie, both sides have already buckled down for an offensive campaign for this week to try and put over a victory next Sunday and get the break.

As stated before, this contest between the "Nips" and "Tucks" at Trinity is for an increased membership, the contest to last for six weeks, the side losing having to file up past the altar on the last Sunday and surrender their buttons and emblems to the winning side. During the two Sundays the contest has gone there has been a total attendance of 2390. According to rules, all officers and teachers of the school go automatically to the side of the "Tucks" this week thus giving the "Tucks" a slight advance but the "Nips" intend to overcome this by personal work, for they are anxious to beat the "Tucks" and officers and teachers all combined. Before the contest is over Trinity hopes to break their record for large attendance which now stands at 1476.

SUNDAY SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

Although Sunday was as beautiful a day as Easter Sunday the Bible School attendance suffered a big decrease, the total only being 6921 while that of Easter was 8010, Sunday's record showing a decrease of 1089.

The primary departments held up their end but there was a big falling off in the adult departments in all the schools. Trinity by having 1265 present jumped back into first place, the first time in several months. Only four schools were above the 500 mark. Sunday's record:

OLD FOLKS FIND CHEERY FRIEND

A Boon to Those Who Have Started Down the Hill of Life

Are we paying all the attention to the comforts of our old folks who are treading in the long shadows of life, that they justly deserve?

When they complain of not feeling well, don't we too often pass lightly over their condition, believing that their ills are due entirely to old age, which man cannot overcome. One should realize that elderly people are more susceptible to sluggishness of the organs than younger people, who, daily exercising, have the advantage of healthful outdoor life.

The trouble with most elderly people is that they let debility sap away their vitality. A condition of debility never wears itself out. Instead it gradually grows more pronounced unless proper methods to check it are taken. It gathers force and nourishes itself upon the tissues of the body. To build up these tissues is to fight debility.

So many of us have been seeking some really efficient remedy to give our old folks. That remedy must contain the proper tonic qualities to revitalize sluggish organs and blood.

It is not a courageous thing to let debility sap away the life and comforts of our old folks when it can be stayed. Tanlac, the new reconstructive tonic and invigorant, has been a boon to the aged.

Characteristic conditions of debility both in old and young are nervousness, headaches, depression of spirits, loss of appetite, pains in the stomach, back and limbs, sleeplessness and a general run-down good-for-nothing feeling that comes from lack of energy.

Tanlac is designed to combat these conditions in many ways. It is a splendid tonic and tissue builder with just the correct amount of proteids. It quiets nerves and brings back restful sleep, which is Nature's first aid to the debilitated. It corrects stomach troubles—and there, in nine cases out of ten, you have the seat of a nervous, debilitating ailment.

With the body recharged with vigor that detested, despondent feeling passes away so quickly you are astonished and might regret that you didn't start out to fight it long before.

Tanlac is being especially introduced in Portsmouth at the Fisher & Streich drug store where the Tanlac Man daily explains its merits and what may be expected from its use.

Tanlac may be obtained in the following nearby towns: New Boston, E. H. Coburn; Sciotoville, Sciotoville Pharmacy; Bloomsville, H. J. Gleim; Scioto, Stockham & Payne; McDermott, Ord Thompson; Lucasville, Dr. J. H. Cox; Stockdale, O. E. Emory & Co.; Jasper, J. W. Dewey; Pikesville, R. B. Willson; Oak Hill, Jenkins Pharmacy; Otway, J. T. Walsh; Young, G. H. Perry; Peebles, W. A. Gall; Buena Vista, Louis Dorn; West Union, W. D. Sutterfield; Fullerton, Ky., S. M. Efficient Use of Gas In The Home

Article IV.—BOILING. (Continued)

The Boiling Point of Water at Atmospheric Pressure is 212 degrees F., and when Water is Boiling it has reached the Maximum Temperature, unless the Steam Generated is Confined, and Creates Greater than Atmospheric Pressure. Any Heat Applied other than that Necessary to Maintain Boiling Temperature, is a Loss and Results only in Rapid Evaporation. Therefore, Violent Boiling is Unnecessary. A Boiled Dinner Can Be Prepared More Quickly by Using Only Enough Gas to Maintain a Boiling Temperature. Violent Boiling by Vaporizing the Water so Rapidly, Necessitates the Addition of Water from Time to Time, thus Temporarily Reducing the Temperature.

ANAEMIC PEOPLE

Need More Iron In the Blood

If you are anaemic, you need more iron in your blood, and the tell-tale symptoms are a pale face, colorless lips, ashken finger nails, poor circulation, and short breath, and more serious diseases are easily contracted when in this condition.

Mr. W. J. Hodges, of Kansas City, Mo., says: "I suffered from the effects of bad blood, was run-down, dizzy, had headaches and did not feel like working. I had tried Beef Iron and Wine without any help. After taking Vinol four days I noticed an improvement and its continued use built up my blood and my bad feelings disappeared like magic."

The bad effects of poor, devitalized blood cannot be overestimated, and it is the peptonate of iron and the true cod liver extracts contained in Vinol, together with beef peptonate, that enriches the blood, improves the circulation and in this natural manner builds up health and strength. Try it on our guarantee.

Miss Dolly Wise

Dear Dolly—I have several things I want to ask you about. In the first place I live in the country. I am a young woman and have a good education. I come to town quite often and have met quite a number of nice boys and girls in Portsmouth. Now I would like to have them week-end with me occasionally but hesitate to invite folks out because father and mother never had much education and have always been too busy to read much or keep up with the ways of the world and I'm afraid father will do or say something to embarrass me before my friends. I wouldn't have that happen for anything. Another thing we keep several cows and father insists that I help milk. Some of my friends, especially a young gentleman, seem to think it is degrading for a girl to milk. Please give me your best advice, Dolly dear.

COUNTRY LASSIE.

I think you should consider your ability to milk just an extra accomplishment, and class it in with whatever other talents you may possess. It is not "degrading," and any young man who suggests that it is, should have his opinion changed. Don't have too much to do with any man who has a hyper-sensitiveness about work—it isn't manual or physical work that is likely to exert a "lowering" influence. If milking is injuring your health, give it up, but to be able to be of such help to your father should be a real pleasure to you. And now your father's mannerisms: Isn't he your father, and very, very dear to you—don't you love him more than any of the "friends" who might laugh at his ways? Be proud of him—if only you and your friends will take the trouble to look, you may find something about your father that would prove a revelation to you—there is most likely something that would prove intensely interesting. Don't ever hesitate to bring your friends home. I am quite sure I wouldn't want men or women for my friends who made fun of my people—do you?

Dear Miss Wise—Please tell me the proper time to serve the salad at a meal? Also how should it be served.

MRS. K. D.

A salad should always be served immediately after the meat course and before the dessert. If you are having an informal meal—as, for instance, a supper—serve the salad with the first course and have the dessert for the second course. When salad is served as a separate course allow an extra fork, smaller than the dinner fork, for each person. The salads may be put on the plates (dessert size) in the kitchen and placed before each guest or the salad may be tastefully arranged in a bowl and placed before the hostess to serve or offered by the maid to each guest to help herself on the plate first placed before her. In this case a fork and spoon should be provided.

Miss Dolly Wise—My kitchen is celled all over. Will you please suggest a pretty color to paint it. Would you paint the ceiling a different color from the sides.

DON'T KNOW MUCH.

You might paint the sides tan and the ceiling a shade darker or

It was Mr. Shackelford's first visit here in 47 years, yet he met a number of citizens whom he knew at the first glance. He and his sister enjoyed their visit to the River City and were shown much attention by old friends of the Shackelford family here.

If Your Little Boy Has Colds Follow Piqua Lady's Advice

In Place of Internal Dosing, This Mother Finds "External" Application Best.

A few winters ago when Vick's Vapo-Rub was first introduced in Ohio from the South, Mrs. S. B. Tobias, 615 Broadway, Piqua, was presented with a jar by her druggist, who requested that she give this preparation a thorough trial, and report the results.

Mrs. Tobias writes:—
"I broke up two or three severe colds on my little seven year old boy, by simply rubbing Vap-O-Rub on his chest and throat, and putting a warm flannel cloth on top to drive it in. It pleased him as he did not have to take anything inwardly. I expect now always to keep Vick's on hand."

The experience of Mrs. Tobias is that of hundreds of Ohio mothers who

Police Look For Jeff Cooper Wanted For Cutting Tom York

Jeff Cooper, whom the police have decided is the young man who cut Tom York, a New Boston saloon-keeper, Saturday afternoon, is still at large. The cutting affray took place on Sixth street, and although York did not know his assailant, circumstantial evidence points to young Cooper being the knife-user.

The police have received conflicting reports regarding the young man's flight. One had it that he escaped on N. & W. passenger train No. 15. Another report had it that some shantyboat people assisted him across the river and that he was now among relatives in Carter county, Ky. Authorities of all nearby cities and towns have been asked to keep a lookout for him.

If Cooper cut York, he is the third person cut by him in recent years. A few years ago he chased Cecil Platt, a son of Patrolman Armour Platt, into his home and cut the muscle of his right arm with a butcher-knife. He also stabbed George V. Shaffer, a former owner of the Owl restaurant on Market street, in the side of the head.

York is experiencing no ill-effects from his several wounds, save on the jaw, which is giving him some trouble.

Cal C. Cooper, father of the fugitive, who was arrested immediately after the cutting, and his wife, Mrs. Louise Cooper, and his sister, Mrs. Rebecca Blakeman, who had been held as witnesses, were released from custody Saturday night, with orders to appear in court Tuesday morning, Cooper to answer to a charge of disorderly conduct.

Cooper and the two women stuck to their original statements that they had not seen the cutting, which occurred at the corner of the alley adjacent to the Cooper home, at 820 Sixth street.

While several people saw a young man answering Jeff Cooper's description rush into the Cooper home, they did not see him leave the house again. Officers Abrecht and Goings, who later searched the house, found a brown coat in the house that matched the brown trousers worn by Cooper.

The official records of the juvenile court show that Cooper was sentenced to the Lancaster Reform school in December 1913 for cutting Shaffer, the restaurant keeper. He was 17 years old at the time. He was paroled from the institution in December, 1914, and discharged in February of this year.

John F. Flannigan Is Re-Elected Head Of Catholic Federation

Delegates of the two local parishes and the various affiliated orders of the Seoto County Federation of Catholic Societies, held their annual convention at St. Mary's school after vespers Sunday afternoon.

John F. Flannigan was re-elected president of the Federation. Charles Sommer was elected vice president. August W. Fussnecker was re-elected secretary and Mrs. S. P. Balmert was re-elected treasurer. Other officers chosen were: William Scott, financial secretary, and Adam Sommer, John Delabar and Mrs. Margaret Mantel, executive committee.

The treasurer's report showed the Federation's financial affairs to be in very satisfactory shape. The Federation voted to donate five dollars to the Seoto County Anti-Tuberculosis League.

Rev. Father T. A. Goebel was the principal speaker of the afternoon, he dealing with the general objects of the Federation, which he said combines and unites the activities of the various Catholic societies in safeguarding the interests of the church.

While returning from Otway with a party of passengers Sunday afternoon, a Ford touring car, owned by the Independent Taxi company, and driven by Oakley C. Reno, a chauffeur, skidded off the West Side pike about a half-mile this side of Hayman's Hill, near Elmer Hill's house, and completely wrecked the machine. Two girls, Cleo Mordant and Katherine Duvall, both of 733 Eleventh street, were slightly injured about the arms from the splintered glass, while a man said to be from Dayton, the other passenger, and the driver escaped uninjured.

Following the reports of the accident, Prosecuting Attorney Joseph T. Micklethwait said that every case of excessive speeding in the rural districts would be investigated by the grand jury. "It is time that this business of speeding is stopped," said Mr. Micklethwait. "Should it be allowed this summer, it will not be safe for people to drive on the improved roads of the county."

Rumors were current about the city Monday that the girls, who were from the "red light district," and the fellow had a quantity of liquor with them at the time of the accident. Prosecutor Micklethwait said that this phase of the accident would also be brought to the attention of the grand jurors.

According to the story told by the driver, he received a call from a man at the corner of Second and Court streets, Sunday, and responded. On arriving, he found the fellow and two girls. The man said that he desired to go to Otway to see the ruins of the recent fire.

Returning at about five o'clock, Reno says that a big touring car came up behind him, and fearing that the machine would collide with him, he swerved out of the road and his car struck a small grassy plot and skidded. The machine struck a telephone pole and broke it squarely off at the base. Some shreds on the pole caught on the chassis and the base was pulled from the ground.

When the car stopped it was badly wrecked and the occupants climbed out and went to the Hayman home, where they summoned aid from the Independent Taxi company.

The two front wheels of the car were crushed; the front axle badly twisted; the radiator was a complete wreck the engine was twisted from its seating the windshield was broken and the fenders and body were damaged. The wrecked machine was towed into Portsmouth by the repair car from the Independent Taxi company.

The Car Spectacular Performance Jeffery Six

THE great ideal of the Jeffery engineers—who introduced the high-speed, long-stroke, high-efficiency motor to America—has always been to give the maximum power at the speeds which are used most in actual service. The Jeffery Six—now nationally known as the car which sold itself—is their realized ideal of power.

From 4 miles an hour and less, on "high"—up to 60 miles and more—she is smooth and silent—a car of spectacular performance.

Try her on the hills. She shoots over grades you had always thought impossible—on "high."

Then try her on the same hill and give her the really gruelling hill climbing test—the one test that shows exactly how much usable power a car has. Make her take the hill easily on "high." You will find that the Jeffery Six can do in a walk what others can only do with a swift start and at top speed.

She gives you the power to shoot in and out of heavy traffic on "high"—the power to give you the lead when the whistle blows on crowded corners—she gives you the power you have to have on rough and muddy roads—the power you may need perhaps only once in your life for some great emergency.

Step on the accelerator and you'll have a power sensation you never even thought of before. And silent! At forty miles an hour she sings along as sweetly as if she were just getting ready to make twenty. Then open the throttle and you'll learn for the first time what the word MOVE really means.

It's a car of spectacular performance in every way—spectacular power, spectacular pick-up, spectacular speed. Come in and try it out—ask us to demonstrate every claim we make.

The price is $1450—and for every dollar of it you get more power at the speeds you use—more riding-comfort and driving-comfort—than you ever thought possible.

And act NOW. This is the car that sells so rapidly that the Thomas B. Jeffery Company was long ago compelled to double its planned output of it. We can't increase our allotment because the factory cannot increase its output.

FACTS AS AGAINST FICTION

Russia is ordinarily pictured as a half civilized and altogether barbarous nation. The best standard of a people's progress is, however, the regard in which women are held. By that Russia, instead of lagging far to the rear, may rather be taken to be far in advance, as nowhere is woman's mental equality so broadly recognized. The highest fields of human endeavor smile upon her and her achievements are the boast of the nation. To achieve in the arts and sciences in Russia is a harder requirement than elsewhere because the course of antecedent attainments, training and education before the aspirant can gain admission to any profession are distinct for rigidity and requirement. The antecedent mastering of courses is not a matter of skimming and smattering, but years and years of hard study. The female colleges concede nothing in this respect to sex. The girl student must ground herself just as thoroughly as the male. In consequence Russian women doctors are said to be the best in the world and are in demand in all the European countries. Women also hold notable places as civil engineers, financiers and the mechanical arts, while they are taking the lead in solving Russia's greatest need, good roads. Nowhere is there prejudice against them on account of sex. If a project in engineering is to be undertaken, a bank requires an expert along some particular line, or something splendid in the way of architecture is to be undertaken, a woman finds absolutely no prejudice against her employment, it is all a simple matter of reputed ability.

It is not alone, however, in her treatment of woman that Russia shows her advanced position. The agricultural development of her vast agricultural resources is being carried forward with stupendous momentum and her internal development by means of roads, railways and manufactures is proceeding on a scale as magnificent as her vast domains. It is believed that presently exhausting as are the sacrifices of wealth and life the war is compelling her to make that it will not be an altogether disastrous curse, but an evil that will find much of compensation in the greater freedom and unity it will bring to her varied races.

The little steamer Klondike was a small, but important factor in the expansion of Portsmouth trade. She brought hundreds of people here to trade in the course of a year, people who otherwise might have gone elsewhere to do their trading. It is a matter of regret that she has been sold and is to leave this section of the river. Our board of trade would find something worthy to do in investigating the Klondike trade and in seeking to get another boat to pick it up where she left off.

THOSE WARM SPRING DAY DREAMS

Bed Time Tales

Miss Chameleon Finds Some Eggs

JUST BECAUSE little Miss Chameleon was content to sit a day at a time, happy in the warm sunshine, you are not to suppose that sunning herself was all she did—by no means. After a day, or maybe two, spent in lying in the sun, she was as ready for food as any creature and ready to see something of the world, too, you may be sure of that.

A couple of days after the day on which she blew up her air cells and stretched herself out on the branch of a low tree, she decided that she would explore for some ants.

"I haven't had much to eat this week," she said to herself thoughtfully, "and I think a few ants will taste pretty good. Guess I'll run over toward that pile of rubbish and find me some."

Now Miss Chameleon had noticed that particular pile of rubbish several times. Not that she cared much about it, but simply because she kept track of everything around her. And she thought it was high time she stopped mere nosing and investigated at close hand.

She crawled down from the tree on which she had been, scampered across the ground and darted down into the rubbish pile.

"Dear me," she exclaimed, "I never knew a rubbish pile was so warm! I can hardly breathe under here!"

She drew back and looked at the pile. It certainly seemed harmless and ordinary enough looking, and quite as though it might abound in ants, so she again darted through the grass and twigs and into the inside of the pile.

But though she looked diligently, not a sign of ants did she see. So she braved the warm closeness and went further into the pile.

And what do you suppose she found?

Ants! No! Something to eat? No, nothing like that—at least nothing that she could eat!

Not a sign of ants did she see

"Who in the world would lay their eggs at the bottom of a great pile of rubbish such as this? I don't know, but I must say, it's not a bad place!"

Before Miss Chameleon had time to ask any more questions, there was a great stir outside the pile and the frightened little lady had barely time to hide herself before huge Mrs. Gater crawled up to see if her eggs were all right!

Miss Chameleon was that surprised that she determined to stay around that rubbish pile till she learned all about how those alligator eggs came to be there. Do you blame her?

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY.
O.O. MEINTYRE.

New York, May 1—Lawrence G. White, son of Stanford White who was shot to death by Harry Thaw, at Madison Square Garden, is to become a benedict. He is soon to marry Miss Laura Chanler, a young society girl of New York. She, like the prospective groom, is an artist.

Young White has never been a patron of Broadway. He goes in for riding and is a collector of rare books. It is said that he has never been inside of a theatre since the tragedy that befell his father and the ways of the Great White Way are unknown to him.

He was graduated from Harvard in 1905 and entered the architectural firm of which his father was the head. He studied drawing at the Ecole des Beaux Arts in Paris.

Miss Chanler has a studio in the artistic colony of New York and her drawings from life and in bronze have excited much interest here. Mr. White is very devoted to his mother and whenever he is seen he is with her.

A little red rooster, full of pep and a part of the Easter week decorations in the spacious foyer of the Hotel Majestic caused all sorts of trouble and incidentally brought forth the ire of a temperamental musician.

The rooster was in a cage with little ducklings, little chicks, pure white bunnies and some pigeons. A program of Easter carols was about to be rendered by Professor Scipione Guidi, who has been imported by the hotel from the Pavillon d'Armenonville in Paris.

The rooster cocked his head for the opening overture and was quiet, but when the orchestra began the strains of a military march called "Chanticleer" it was too much. He began to crow and he crowed until the professor quit—and then he kept right on crowing.

It then became a question of rooster or professor and husky bullboys secured a strangle hold on the little red rooster and took

ABUSE NOT ARGUMENT

A Virginia paper, entering with a loud and coarse voice into the discussion of the part Bryan is playing in the present controversy that is agitating the country, refers to him as blab-mouth Bryan. It discredits itself, not the object of its animus by applying to him such indecent adjectives. Mr. Bryan deserves respectable treatment. For no matter how far one may find disagreement with him, it must be confessed he is an altogether admirable man, we could just as well say an exceptional one in character and personal conduct. Nothing dishonest, or dishonorable can truthfully be alleged against him. He himself is transcendently clean in thought and speech, making in this respect a model public character. True enough, the freedom and enthusiasm with which he throws himself into the heat and roar of discussion is aggravating to those of more placid moods, but his sincerity is seldom questioned and he certainly has as much right to them and as much privilege and liberty in maintaining them as have those who differ from him. Gentlemen, who disagree with his views, will try to present their case with something like his consummate adroitness and be uncontent to hurl rude epithets at him, besides the ill manners of the latter course, knowing a cause loses, instead of gains, strength when it is abused for its answer.

William M. Ingraham, ex-mayor of Portland, the metropolis of Maine, has been appointed assistant secretary of war, thus becoming right hand man of Secretary Newton D. Baker, ex-mayor of Cleveland, the metropolis of Ohio. Most cordially commending his appointment, the Portland Argus describes him as a gentleman of rare degree in character and manner, democratic approachability and delightful affability. He is a good listener, unusually happy in directing and advising, has a peculiar faculty of dissecting argument and reason and a backbone as sturdy as oak in standing by a conclusion when he has reached it. To those who know Secretary Baker this description sounds as though written of him.

The kindest of all souls, a man who brought more laughter and gladness into the land than perhaps any other American, died the other day, quite forgot. He was George W. Peck, the author of "Peck's Bad Boy," a series of stories about a red-blooded lad, that was, for the day and time, inimitable in its unrestrained and natural humor. It is pleasant to reflect that the fates dealt kindly with him and his long life was filled with serenity and comfort. A man who makes a generation laugh, is entitled to at least that much reward.

It may be all right to shout alarm in the editorial columns that these United States couldn't arm and equip an army of a million men in a year, but, to save the face of veracity, those tales in the news columns about America supplying the armies of Russia, England and France with cannon, rifles and munitions ought then to be cut out.

DUBLIN REVOLT COLLAPSED

LEADERS AND FOLLOWERS IN HANDS OF THE BRITISH TROOPS

(BULLETIN)

LONDON, MAY 1--

Official announcement was made this afternoon that all the rebel leaders in Dublin had surrendered.

Dublin, Sunday evening, April 30 (via London, May 1)—Rebels of the rank and file followed the example of their leaders and confessed the cause of the Irish republic by laying down arms at the foot of Parnell monument in Sackville Street and surrendering to British troops. About 450 of them who had fought since Monday in this central area marched from their strongholds under the white flag and gave themselves up. Soon afterward a rebel lieutenant wearing a heather green uniform and carrying a white flag came in with a guard of ten men from the adjoining county of Meath to learn the truth about rumors of a general surrender. The party marched off to the castle and learned from J. H. Pearce, who was named provisional president of the Irish republic, that the movement had collapsed and was advised to resist no longer. The lieutenant and his escort then started out to parley with the rebels in the country districts in an effort to induce them to lay down their arms. James Connelly, one of the leaders of the uprising, is said by government officials to be a prisoner in the castle.

London, May 1—An official announcement issued last night concerning the situation in Ireland says:

“An official list of casualties among the army given out today contains 27 names. Of this total five were killed, 21 wounded and one missing.”

MAN WHO KEPT EGYPT QUIET IN IRELAND TO QUELL REBELLION

Sir John Maxwell (arrow) and Lord Wimborne.

Major General Sir John Maxwell, lately in command of the British forces in Egypt, is in command of the British troops in Ireland who are putting down the rebellion. His task apparently is a big one. Lord Wimborne, lord lieutenant of Ireland, is another important figure in the present crisis.

TARRED AND FEATHERED HIM

Mt. Vernon, Ohio, May 1.—Samuel Clark, 58, Jackson township farmer, was tarred and feathered yesterday morning and is in a serious condition. Turpentine applied to remove the coat of tar has made his flesh raw all over his body. Clark says he believes neighbors with whom he had trouble are responsible for the affair. He was called to the door of his home in his night clothes early in the morning, seized, rolled in tar and then feathers were applied. Clark said today he had received a letter warning him to leave the vicinity in ten days or he would be killed. “I am going to stay,” Clark said today, “and I am going to fortify my house to withstand a siege if necessary.”

Townshend Will Retain His Sword

Berlin, May 1.—(By wireless to Sayville)—The number of casualties sustained by the British forces in Mesopotamia during March and April is given as 20,000 in a Constantinople dispatch to the Overseas News Agency.

“The badly captured at Kut-el-Amara has not yet been reckoned. Among the prisoners are four generals, 240 British officers and 270 Indian officers. The Turkish commander-in-chief, Halil Pasha, permitted General Townshend, the British commander, to retain his sword.

“When the news of the capture of Kut-el-Amara was received in Constantinople, flags were flown. It was observed that several British commercial houses flew Turkish flags.”

CARPENTERS ON STRIKE

Akron, O., May 1—Several hundred carpenters were on strike here today, following a vote to walk out, taken yesterday. Of the nine hundred carpenters in the city, union leaders claim 600 had quit today. The strikers ask an eight hour day, instead of the former nine hour work period, and an increase in pay from 45 to 55 cents an hour.

Efforts were made today to end the strike of machinists at the Whit-

BIG LABOR PARADE IN NEW YORK TODAY

New York, May 1—Owing to the unusual ferment in labor circles union leaders predict that the May day parade here this afternoon will be one of the most notable labor demonstrations New York has ever seen.

Estimates of the number of men and women in line ran as high as 100,000. After the parade there will be a great mass meeting in Union Square and smaller meetings in 30 halls throughout the city. The nucleus of the parade will be the garment workers, 60,000 of whom have been locked out in a contest with the manufacturers over the closed shop question.

To prevent disturbances unusual precautions have been taken by the city authorities. A large number of policemen will be stationed in Union Square when the parade disperses and the mass meeting is addressed by orators and labor leaders.

OBREGON INSISTS ON RECALL OF TROOPS

What Each Side Wants

“The only terms suggested by General Obregon, Carranza's minister of war, while in conference with Generals Scott and Funston, representing the United States, Saturday at Juarez, are as follows:

Immediate withdrawal of American forces.

Use of railroads by Americans to facilitate removal of soldiers on Mexican soil.

Assuming Francisco Villa is dead, General Obregon says his soldiers can handle the situation.

America's substitution for these requests are as follows:

Open and effective co-operation of the Carranza forces with the Americans.

Extension of the American lines into Mexico at least as far south as Casas Grandes and probably farther.

Delegation to the American military the duty of policing a “northern zone” consisting of the territory directly south of the international boundary.

Policing of the remainder of the territory, a “southern zone” by Carranza forces.

Co-operation in the handling of supplies for the American troops.

Granting of the use of the Mexican railways to the expeditionary force.

El Paso, Texas, May 1—Progress in the negotiations regarding the disposition of the American expeditionary force in Mexico today awaited direction from the Washington government. In some quarters it was the opinion that the conference had reached the stage where the question of withdrawal might be the primary subject of discussion. It was said, however, that the administration was not likely to consider an immediate retirement of General Pershing's column, but rather would await a convincing demonstration from the Carranza government, of its ability to deal with Villa bandits before starting a northward movement of the 12,000 or more United States troops now on Mexican soil.

The reply of administrations to the report of the first conference held by Generals Scott and Funston and Generals Obregon and Trevino Saturday at Juarez, was expected early today. After a complete digestion of its contents by the American representatives, the second conference is to be arranged.

It was pointed out by some well-informed persons that the present negotiations might be merely the preliminary to a diplomatic discussion between Washington and Mexico City. Whether this would be the case, it was indicated, would depend altogether upon the attitude of the Mexican conference. If General Obregon consented to the proposals of the United States, it is said, a settlement would be near at hand. In the event of a refusal from him to consider a co-operative campaign against the scattered bands, the whole matter would revert to Washington. A diplomatic discussion would then ensue, in which the American government will deliver its reply to the recent note to General Carranza, suggesting the necessity of withdrawal.

PITTSBURGH WALKS AS STRIKE TIES UP ALL STREET CARS

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 1—Thousands of persons were compelled either to walk or ride in automobiles to work today, as a result of the strike of street car men which began shortly after midnight. Operations were completely suspended on all lines of the Pittsburgh Railway Company in Pittsburgh and vicinity and the Washington and Clarington Interurban lines, as well as on the Beaver Valley and Washington local lines.

President J. D. Callery announced that no attempt to operate the cars would be made today.

The strike order was issued by T. K. Ward, president of District 88, Street Car Men's Union, promptly at midnight, and shortly after negotiations between the employees and officials had been broken off.

No disorder marked the start of the strike, and within two hours after the order had been issued, traction service had been tied up. In order to be ready, should the officials of the company desire to resume negotiations, members of the union wage scale committee remained at the labor temple throughout the night.

Mayor Joseph G. Armstrong attempted to prevent the final break, but was unsuccessful. He conferred with representatives of both sides in an effort to induce them to submit to a new proposition, but both remained firm. The strike affects 3,200 conductors and motor-men and about 500 other employees of the company.

The men first demanded 30, 35 and 38 cents an hour, the first, second and third years service, but later yielded to 30, 32 and 36 cents. The company refused to pay more than 32 cents as a maximum wage.

Every day that the TIMES is published, builders list their bargains on TIMES WANT AD page.

The strikers early today stationed pickets at the various car barns and also at the city limits to prevent the Butler short line and the Butler Harmony and New Castle Interurban cars from entering the city.

Vice-President J. J. Thorpe, of the union, this morning, issued an order instructing strikers to keep away from saloons. He said he anticipated no trouble.

FACTS AS AGAINST FICTION

Russia is ordinarily pictured as a half civilized and altogether barbarous nation. The best standard of a people's progress is, however, the regard in which women are held. By that Russia, instead of lagging far to the rear, may rather be taken to be far in advance, as nowhere is woman's mental equality so broadly recognized. The highest fields of human endeavor smile upon her and her achievements are the boast of the nation. To achieve in the arts and sciences in Russia is a harsher requirement than elsewhere because the course of antecedent attainments, training and education before the aspirant can gain admission to any profession are distinct for rigidity and requirement. The antecedent mastering of courses is not a matter of skimming and snatching, but years and years of hard study. The female colleges concede nothing in this respect to sex. The girl student must ground herself just as thoroughly as the male. In consequence Russian women doctors are said to be the best in the world and are in demand in all the European countries. Women also hold notable places as civil engineers, financiers and the mechanical arts, while they are taking the lead in solving Russia's greatest need, good roads. Nowhere is there prejudice against them on account of sex. If a project in engineering is to be undertaken, a bank requires an expert along some particular line, or something splendid in the way of architecture is to be undertaken, a woman finds absolutely no prejudice against her employment, it is all a simple matter of reputed ability.

It is not alone, however, in her treatment of woman that Russia shows her advanced position. The agricultural development of her vast agricultural resources is being carried forward with stupendous momentum and her internal development by means of roads, railways and manufactures is proceeding on a scale as magnificent as her vast domains. It is believed that presently exhausting as are the sacrifices of wealth and life the war is compelling her to make that it will not be an altogether disastrous curse, but an evil that will find much of compensation in the greater freedom and unity it will bring to her varied races.

The little steamer Klondike was a small, but important factor in the expansion of Portsmouth trade. She brought hundreds of people here to trade in the course of a year, people who otherwise might have gone elsewhere to do their trading. It is a matter of regret that she has been sold and is to leave this section of the river. Our board of trade would find something worthy to do in investigating the Klondike trade and in seeking to get another boat to pick it up where she left off.

We have before us a copy of the "Adams County Democrat" published at West Union, Saturday, December 31, 1859, which was presented to us by Horace L. Small. THOSE WARM SPRING DAY DREAMS

ABUSE NOT ARGUMENT

A Virginia paper, entering with a loud and coarse voice into the discussion of the part Bryan is playing in the present controversy that is agitating the country, refers to him as "blab-mouth Bryan." It discredits itself, not the object of its animus by applying to him such indecent adjectives. Mr. Bryan deserves respectable treatment. For no matter how far one may find disagreement with him, it must be confessed he is an altogether admirable man; we could just as well say an exceptional one in character and personal conduct. Nothing dishonest, or dishonorable can truthfully be alleged against him. He himself is transcendently clean in thought and speech, making in this respect a model public character. True enough, the freedom and enthusiasm with which he throws himself into the heat and roar of discussion is aggravating to those of more placid moods, but his sincerity is seldom questioned and he certainly has as much right to them and as much privilege and liberty in maintaining them as have those who differ from him. Gentlemen, who disagree with his views, will try to present their case with something like his consummate adroitness and be uncontent to hurl rude epithets at him, besides the ill manners of the latter course, knowing a cause loses, instead of gains, strength when it is abused for its answer.

William M. Ingraham, ex-mayor of Portland, the metropolis of Maine, has been appointed assistant secretary of war, thus becoming right hand man of Secretary Newton D. Baker, ex-mayor of Cleveland, the metropolis of Ohio. Most cordially commending his appointment, the Portland Argus describes him as a gentleman of rare degree in character and manner, democratic approachability and delightful affability. He is a good listener, unusually happy in directing and advising, has a peculiar faculty of dissecting argument and reason and a backbone as sturdy as oak in standing by a conclusion when he has reached it. To those who know Secretary Baker this description sounds as though written of him.

The kindest of all souls, a man who brought more laughter and gladness into the land, than perhaps, any other American, died the other day, quite forgot. He was George W. Peck, the author of "Peck's Bad Boy," a series of stories about a red-blooded lad, that was, for the day and time, inimitable in its unrestrained and natural humor. It is pleasant to reflect that the fates dealt kindly with him and his long life was filled with serenity and comfort. A man who makes a generation laugh, is entitled to at least that much reward.

BedTime Tales

Miss Chameleon Finds Some Eggs

Four months ago little Miss Chameleon was content to sit at a table, happy in the warm sunshine, you are not to suppose that sunbathing herself was all she did—by no means. After a day, or maybe two, spent in lying in the sun, she was as ready to feed us any creature and ready to see something of the world too, you may be sure of that.

A couple of days after the day on which she flew up her air cells and stretched herself out on the branch of a low tree, she decided that she would explore for some ants.

"I haven't had much to eat this week," she said to herself thoughtfully, "and I think a few ants will taste pretty good. Guess I'll run over toward that pile of rubbish and find me some."

Now Miss Chameleon had noticed that particular pile of rubbish several times. Not that she cared much about it, but simply because she kept track of everything around her. And she thought it was high time she stopped mere noticing and investigated at close hand.

She crawled down from the tree on which she had been, scampered across the ground and darted down into the rubbish pile.

"Dear me," she exclaimed, "I never knew a rubbish pile was so warm! I can hardly breathe under here!"

She drew back and looked at the pile. It certainly seemed harmless and ordinary enough looking and quite as though it might abound in ants, so she again darted through the grass and twigs and into the inside of the pile.

But though she looked diligently, not a sign of ants did she see. So she braved the warm closeness and went further into the pile.

And what do you suppose she found?

Ants? No! Something to eat? No! Nothing like that—at least nothing that she could eat!

Not a sign of ants did she see prise. "Who in the world would lay their eggs at the bottom of a great pile of rubbish such as this is? Though I must say, it's not a bad place!"

Before Miss Chameleon had time to ask any more questions, there was a great stir outside the pile and the frightened little lady had barely time to hide herself before huge Mrs. Gater crawled up to see if her eggs were all right!

Miss Chameleon was that surprised that she determined to stay around that rubbish pile till she learned all about how those ant eggs came to be there. Do you blame her?

No; we are entitled to no credit because we said Ralph Tyler, the negro candidate for a place on "the Big Four" delegation to the National Republican convention, would run like he was tied to a post. Prophecy is the foretelling of a thing that is going to happen, not asserting as a negative, a thing that never was and never can be.

It may be all right to shout alarm in the editorial columns that these United States couldn't arm and equip an army of a million men in a year, but, to save the face of veracity, those tales in the news columns about America supplying the armies of Russia, England and France with cannon, rifles and munitions ought then to be cut out.

Young White has never been a patron of Broadway. He gets in for riding and is a collector of rare books. It is said that he has never been inside of a theatre since the tragedy that befell his father and the ways of the Great White Way are unknown to him.

He was graduated from Harvard in 1908 and entered the architectural firm of which his father was the head. He studied drawing at the Ecole des Beaux Arts in Paris.

Miss Chanler has a studio in the artistic colony of New York and her drawings from life and in bronze have excited much interest here. Mr. White is very devoted to his mother and whenever he is seen he is with her.

A little red rooster, full of pep, and a part of the Easter week decorations in the spacious foyer of the Hotel Majestic caused all sorts of trouble and incidentally brought forth the ire of a temperamental musician.

The rooster was in a cage with little ducklings, little chicks, pure white bunnies and some pigeons. A program of Easter carols was about to be rendered by Professor Scipione Guidi, who has been imported by the hotel from the Pavillon d'Armenyville in Paris.

The rooster cocked his head for the opening overture and was quiet, but when the orchestra began the strains of a military march called "Chanticleer" it was too much. He began to crow and he crowed until the professor quit—and then he kept right on crowing.

It then became a question of rooster or professor and husky bellboys secured a struggle hold on the little red rooster and took him away to the basement. A. S. On the hotel menu that night was "Chicken Stew a la Napolitaine."

Summons servers in New York are working a new dodge to trap their victims. Formerly they used to present an engraved card on the prospect but now they come in uniforms.

Sometimes they are dressed as chauffeurs or an inspector of something or other. The other day one got into an office by saying he was the window cleaner and he carried a ladder and a bucket of water with him—also the summons.

The phone tinkled in a Park Row newspaper office and a bright young man who takes advertisements by phone answered.

"Will you please insert this death notice?" he was asked.

"Be glad to," was the reply.

"Shoot."

"Colonel Jones has gone to rest, in an appropriate place."

The next morning it appeared thusly: "Colonel Jones has gone to rest in an appropriate place."

Spring has surely arrived in New York. The real hint that the season is here leaps out of the printed page in the title of a romantic man who "stole" a tugboat. In reality he eloped with it.

The care-free citizen sailed off with the good tug Defiance from an East River pier. He was simply filled with discontent and his restlessness created a longing for the Caribbean or some other blue and distant spot.

At night he slipped down to the pier and in a short while was steaming away. He said he thought it was much more adventurous to rove the sea in a tugboat than to stay home and beat the parlor rug. His adventure was short lived, however, for he was caught a few miles away from shore and brought back, but he will not be prosecuted.

Police Look For Jeff Cooper Wanted For Cutting Tom York

Jeff Cooper, whom the police have decided is the young man who cut Tom York, a New Boston saloon-keeper, Saturday afternoon, is still at large. The cutting affray took place on Sixth street, and although York did not know his assailant, circumstantial evidence points to young Cooper being the knife-user.

The police have received conflicting reports regarding the young man's flight. One had it that he escaped on N. & W. passenger train No. 15. Another report had it that some shantytown people assisted him across the river and that he was now among relatives in Carter county, Ky. Authorities of all nearby cities and towns have been asked to keep a lookout for him.

If Cooper cut York, he is the third person cut by him in recent years. A few years ago he chased Cecil Platt, a son of Patrolman Armour Platt, into his house and cut the muscle of his right arm with a butcher-knife. He also stabbed George V. Shaffer, a former owner of the Owl restaurant on Market street, in the side of the head.

York is experiencing no ill-effects from his several wounds, save on the jaw, which is giving him some trouble.

Cal O. Cooper, father of the fugitive, who was arrested immediately after the cutting, and his wife, Mrs. Louise Cooper, and his sister, Mrs. Rebecca Blakeman, who had been held as witnesses, were released from custody Saturday night, with orders to appear in court Tuesday morning, Cooper to answer to a charge of disorderly conduct.

Cooper and the two women stuck to their original statements that they had not seen the cutting, which occurred at the corner of the alley adjacent to the Cooper home, at 826 Sixth street.

While several people saw a young man answering Jeff Cooper's description rush into the Cooper home, they did not see him leave the house again. Officers Albrecht and Goings, who later searched the house, found a brown coat in the house that matched the brown trousers worn by Cooper.

The official records of the juvenile court show that Cooper was sentenced to the Lancaster Reform school in December, 1914, for cutting Shaffer, the restaurant keeper. He was 17 years old at the time. He was paroled from the institution in December, 1914, and discharged in February of this year.

Treves is probably the oldest city in Germany and contains more Roman antiquities than any other city in northern Europe, but its most famous possession is the "holy robe" preserved in the cathedral. According to tradition, this is the identical "semiklos robe" worn by Jesus Christ and gambled for by the Roman soldiers at the foot of the cross.

JOY RIDERS IN SMASHUP, JURY PROBE MAY RESULT

While returning from Otway with a party of passengers Sunday afternoon, a Ford touring car, owned by the Independent Taxi company, and driven by Oakley C. Reno, a chauffeur, skidded off the West Side pike about a half-mile this side of Hayman's Hill, near Elmer Hill's house, and completely wrecked the machine. Two girls, Cleo Mordant and Katherine Duvall, both of 738 Eleventh street, were slightly injured about the arms from the splintered glass, while a man said to be from Dayton, the other passenger, and the driver escaped uninjured.

Following the reports of the accident, Prosecuting Attorney Joseph T. Micklethwait said that every case of excessive speeding in the rural districts would be investigated by the grand jury. "It is time that this business of speeding is stopped," said Mr. Micklethwait. "Should it be allowed this summer, it will not be safe for people to drive on the improved roads of the county."

Rumors were current about the city Monday that the girls, who were from the "red light district," and the fellow had a quantity of liquor with them at the time of the accident. Prosecutor Micklethwait said that this phase of the accident would also be brought to the attention of the grand jurors.

According to the story told by the driver, he received a call from a man at the corner of Second and Court streets, Sunday, and responded. On arriving, he found the fellow and two girls. The man said that he desired to go to Otway to see the ruins of the recent fire.

Returning at about five o'clock, Reno says that a big touring car came up behind him, and fearing that the machine would collide with him, he swerved out of the road and his car struck a small grassy plot and skidded. The machine struck a telephone pole and broke it squarely off at the base. Some shreds on the pole caught on the chassis and the base was pulled from the ground.

When the car stopped it was badly wrecked and the occupants climbed out and went to the Hayman house, where they summoned aid from the Independent Taxi company.

The two front wheels of the car were crushed; the front axle badly twisted; the radiator was a complete wreck the engine was twisted from its seating the windshield was broken and the fenders and body were damaged. The wrecked machine was towed into Portsmouth by the repair car from the Independent Taxi company.
